Watch Out For Symptoms Of Lassa Fever, Meningitis - Medical Experts Warn

Medical experts have raised alarm over cases of two highly contagious diseases, Lassa fever and meningitis, recently reported in Edo and Oyo States respectively.

Symptoms of Lassa fever include fever, muscle pain, inflammation of throat and lungs, internal bleeding (which may flow out of the nose or ear) and destruction of internal organs.

It takes only about 7 or 21 days for the virus to fully have its effect on the victim. Medical experts have also estimated that about 15% - 20% of hospitalized Lassa fever patients will die from the illness.

Meningitis, an airborne disease spreads quickly in overcrowded environments. Its symptoms include vomiting, high fever, headache, delirium and stiff neck. Effect of contact with the
